†Original notice of the question was received in Hindi.

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE AND COMPANY AFFAIRS (SHRIGINGEE N. RAMACHANDRAN): (a) The focus of the Annual Report, 2002 of the International Narcotics Control Board (INCB) is the review of the adverse socio-economic impact of illicit (Drug) crop cultivation and illicit drug trade on long term economic growth. This review shows that global illicit drug production and related economic activities compromise long-term economic development because of their destabilizing effects on the State, the economic and the civil society. The INCB Report indicates that ninety-nine per cent of the value added in the global illicit drug trade is generated by drug trafficking at the national and international levels and only one per cent can be attributed as income to the small farmers.

(b) Yes, Sir.

(c) The comments made in the International Narcotics Control Board report pertain to large illicit cultivation areas. India is a licit producer of opium and illicit cultivation is minimal. This is checked by strict implementation of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 and International Conventions on Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances.
